FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 6 1860.

Open The Books.

There ought to be some way by which the outrages daily juggling with the Nation's cash accounts by Treasury officials could be stopped. It began early last winter with the monthly debt statement, when Cleveland found how ill-founded were his prophecies of a change for the better. Treasury figures, it is true, had increased so steadily as to cover the inexperience of the administration and the inability of our present tariff law to bring in revenue up to national expenditures. As the hours grow worse the list of the Treasury officials become more desperate. It is about time that such evil practices were stopped. They do not only bring ridicule and contempt upon the officials who indulge in them. The session of a Republican Congress begins in a fortnight, however, and time will be lost in clearing up the time-phore surrounding a number of Treasury actions and officials. Cleveland and Carlisle will not always be able to cover up their rank and daily public inquiry.

Democratic Stultification.

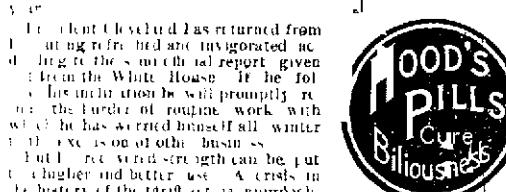

Another situation has recently been attracted to the New York Herald by its ridiculous attempts to mislead the public by the publication of fictitious reports from various manufacturing concerns in aid of the bill of safety. These reports, which had no other foundation than the imagination of the Herald's writers, were promptly denied by the parties whose names had been given to represent the purpose of this political campaign. It is difficult to imagine that any one who has not found time to publish the corrections on the third and fourth days with work as great as publishing each day more than returns to vindicate the tariff legislation. In this connection it is interesting to recall the comments of the Herald on the sure tariff law just a year ago. We quote from an article appearing in its column in June of last year:

"The recent Cleveland has returned from dredging reform and is vigorous as ever. His report, given to the White House, in his favor, in justification of his bill, is self-principled and the author of rough work with which he has earned himself a winter. The bill is on other hands so ill-constructed that it can be put to the highest and best use. It is in history of the tariff that is approached and the fate of the Democratic party is involved in the outcome. The party need not fear. It needs a new and better bill, and the author of the bill should be held responsible. Larger consumers are involved in the bill, and the country.

"The Senate is about to pass a tariff bill which does not fulfill the Democratic party's promise to the people's expectations. The bill is to be amended and enlarged, and the party to its constituents a full explanation will be given. The Senate to drop into the hands of the people's will.

"It is difficult to call attention to the bill in detail, for its simplicity and directness of organization, but its main object is to regulate that we cannot afford to give up our exports of all kinds. It is to be hoped that Merritt & Co. may receive a continuation of their favor for the transaction of all business in this line in the best satisfaction of the public. Still further, it is well to be advised that the name of Merritt & Co. will be yours. Sold by all druggists 20 cents."

H. F. Fogg, Esq., has purchased of Mr. J. V. Ricker the house and lot adjoining his present residence on French street. It is probable that the house will be removed and a fine residence erected in its place by Mr. Fogg next year.

Benson & Miller will reopen their store on Main street, formerly Mr. J. D. Ingoldsby's, next Monday, after having had a new front put in. The change is a marked improvement in appearance and in convenience. The new firm has an excellent location and will undoubtedly have an extensive business.

Center street bill, or "Baptist Bill" as it is generally known, which has always been a very dark thoroughfare, is now brilliantly lighted for its entire length by an arc light which has just been placed over the entrance to the Public Works switch station. It is greatly appreciated by the large number of people who travel that way.

The Portland Transcript of this week contains a beautiful poem from the graceful pen of that talented Maine poet, Anna Boynton Averill. It is entitled Blanchard, and is a most charming description of the little village on the Piscataquis river under Russell mountain. It will give an added charm to tourists over the Bangor and Aroostook railroad.

The last band concert of the summer was given by the Bangor Band at Center Park last evening and the music was enjoyed by a large crowd. The selections of the well arranged programs were finely rendered and Prof. Hall's cornet solo was played with the great skill characteristic of him. The summer concerts have all been fully appreciated by the public.

Returns to the State Board of Agriculture show that this year's hay has been done in Maine by potato beetles than usual. The farmers have more to do in preventing their ravages, and are better prepared than ever before by the introduction of improved implements for applying Paris green. Potatoes appear to be very free from any indication of blight. The hay crop has been harvested seasonably, and in good condition. Reports show, universally, a very fine grain crop. The introduction of noxious weeds into our fields from western grain and grass seed is causing much damage to agricultural interests. The board urges all farmers to purchase their seeds only from tested lots, and from near by sources as much as possible. In general there is not much change in numbers of live stock of the different classes, although it is easy to see from the returns of correspondents that a change may be looked for. This change will come in a lessening of horses, and in an increase of sheep, dairy cows and young cattle.

The fourth annual fair of the Hancock County Fair Association, at Weymouth Park, next week, bids fair to be a success. There will be a grand field ball every day, Wednesday the Pittsfield vs. Ellsworth and on other days teams at the Franklin's and Bucksports will be playing. The races are scheduled as follows: First day, Tuesday, September 10th, 8-mile trot and pace, purse $100; 2 3/4 trot, purse $105. Second day, 2 3/4 trot, purse $100; 2 1/2 trot, purse $250. T. Brigham, Esq., Places the Bangor "Tremont" Game Won from Portland Thursday.

One. T. Brigham, Esq., the joy and pride of each and every blank in this municipality, officiated at the opening of the aggregation from Portland yesterday at Maplewood Park. We have put in some strong claims for Thomas, among them that he is the best pitcher in the league, and we have been given reason to change our views. He pitched yesterday, and that settled it. The Bangor defeated Portland and everybody was exceeding glad thereof.

It was a good game, a very good game.

Runs were not numerous and there were some fine plays. Up to the 6th inning the visitors made but two hits, both made by Slater, of Orono. The 8th was exciting. We were leading Portland only one run. Harry hit on the ground to Spill and was out at first, then our great and good friend Hayes, of the mighty muscle and great head for keeping run of the game and working every point, glided up to the plate in his digested way.

Braham took a brace then to shut the visitors out. He struck out Spill, much to the latter's disgust. Magoon put up a foul to Hayes. It then looked as though we had the game cold and people began to leave, but the fun was still coming. Corbett singled to right field and Sherratt unfortunately led the ball through him, Corbett taking third. Terrien was thrown to in for Killeen and was sturdily caught. O'Brien went out on a fly to Shaffer.

The well and very favorably known melodrama "The Cotton King" will be the attraction at the Opera House next Monday and Tuesday nights. The scenic environment is said to be worthy of all, the mechanical effects of the most elaborate and realistic character and the whole production of great attractiveness. Everybody who enjoys a clean, picturesque, deeply interesting melodrama, without its usual blood and thunder accompaniments will wish to see "The Cotton King" when it comes to this city. A carefully selected company of experienced players have been secured, it is said. The comedy features of the play are in a pleasing vein and are well contrasted with its more serious or pathetic scenes or incidents. "The Cotton King" has achieved a success wherever presented.

Pleasant Reunion.

The class of '92, Bangor High School had their reunion yesterday at Phillips Lake. Fourteen members rode out on a buckboard and there met Miss Marion Parker, a former member. The entire day and evening were passed there. The members of the class were very pleasantly entertained by Mr. G. W. Parker, family at their cottage and Mr. John H. Parker gave them an enjoyable fall on his steamer.

The following members of the class went on the trip: Misses Blanche Clayton, Sadie Pierce, Jennie Seavey, Daisy Webster, Kate Durbin, Alice Landers, Grace Chalmers and her friend, Miss Gannett, and Rose Farrington and Misses Ned Moor, William Sawtelle, Charles Whitman, Tabor Bailey and Walter Hubbard. They returned about 11 P. M. after a most enjoyable day's outing.

The special committee for conferring with people encroaching on the streets was given some time to report in.

The committee in charge of the repairs at the almshouse reported on the work done, showing that the house had been greatly improved regarding conveniences and comfort. The work cost $649.99. The report was accepted.

Scholar Agent fall verbally reported on various repairs and improvements at the different school buildings.

An order was passed reconsidering the August order ordering the sidewalk on the west side of State street widened to 12 feet and the street resurfaced and the matter passed at the July meeting, before the legal instructions to the street commissioner.

The sewer committee reported the building of the new piece of sewer on Union street and the assessments. The report was accepted.

After auditing monthly bills the council adjourned.

Foot Ball Notes.

Capt. Seavey, of this city, of the Maine State football team had his candidates out on the field Wednesday for the first time and they did some light practice work. There is good material in the team and with an able coach the team will doubtless be heard from this fall.

A coach will be secured as soon as possible. The team has quite an advantage over the other colleges owing to the fact that the fall term begins about two weeks earlier and will be enabled to get into fair condition before the others start. Some of the new material in the freshman class promises well.

M. S. C. will play Foxcroft at Foxcroft next Saturday and the same team at Orono a week from Saturday. Games will be arranged w/ the other Maine colleges. Bowdoin will play the two games in November, one at Orono and one at Brunswick.

Bowdoin will play Brown University at Providence November 20th.

The High School boys are doing some light work on the Common. There is excellent material for the team and all that is needed is good coaching.

Stonington Property Recovered.

Some more articles stolen by the thief who has been visiting clothes lines and houses recently were recovered yesterday by Officer Bowen. They consisted of silver knives, forks, spoons and a manicure set which belonged to Mr. E. Cobb, who resides on Forest avenue. The house was entered while the family was away and the silver was taken.

It was sold to Auctioneer Davis, on Central street, who disposed of it at auction. He told the officers that he would recover it when he was informed that the articles were stolen, and did so. The thief was very successful in covering up his tracks.

The Bangor WEEKLY COURIER is issued to-day with the usual very large amount of reading matter. For many years he has kept an account of the receipts and expenditures of his orchard of 2 1/2 acres, and, according to his figures, it has netted him for the past six years $107 annual per acre.

The crop of Maloe, it is said, will be one of the largest ever known. The area is among the largest ever planted, the stand is even, while the growth is remarkably rank and strong. Since the seed was put into the ground every condition has been favorable for making a great crop. While in some parts of the State the rainfall has been too small for the hay crop, the corn has not been affected by it to any extent. This great crop will add a large amount of stock fodder to the supply already in the barns, provided it is well cared for, and it is worth nearly as much as hay to our Maine farmers.
